Re: Universal Service Contribution Methodology, CC Docket No.96-45

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Manatee Community College submits this letter to express our concern on a proposed change in the contribution methodology for the Universal Service Fund (USF) from a percentage based system to a number-based contribution. This would significantly increase the cost burden on our college as we provide telephone and data services to students, faculty, and staff.

We have calculated that our per year federal universal service contribution would increase from approximately $900 per year to $12,000 per year - assuming that the per-number fee was $1.00. This increase is a significant cost burden for a publicly funded college and would mean decreased services and resources for our students, faculty and staff. This would mean reallocating scarce resources that could include:

- Moving funds from education programs to the telecommunications budget;
- Reduction of numbers assigned to faculty and staff, which would limit their access to voice communications;
- Delays in upgrades and modernization of campus telecommunications facilities.

We support the goal of the USF to provide needed services to all Americans, but urge you to consider the extreme burden this change will impose on our campus and other institutions of higher education. Along with other filers in this docket we suggest that the Commission adopt a hybrid approach that determines an organization's contribution by examining the number of trunks it uses in providing service, rather than the number of telephone numbers assigned to those trunks.

We support the Commission's important work to ensure access to telecommunications service for rural and other underserved groups. We urge you, however, to ensure that publicly funded colleges are not unfairly assessed with skyrocketing contribution requirements.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. Thomas Cleary, Vice President

Re: Universal Service Contribution Methodology, CC Docket No. 96-45

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Central Florida Community College of Ocala, Florida submits this letter to express our concern on a proposed change in the contribution methodology for the Universal Service Fund (USF) from a percentage based system to a number-based contribution. This would significantly increase the cost burden on college and universities that provide telephone and data services to their students, faculty, and other employees.

The increase is a significant cost burden for a publicly funded college and would mean decreased services and resources for our students, faculty and staff. This would mean reallocating scarce resources that could include:

- Moving funds from education programs to the telecommunications budget;
- Reduction of numbers assigned to faculty and staff, which would limit their access to voice communications;
- Delays in upgrades and modernization of campus telecommunications facilities.

We support the goal of the USF to provide needed services to all Americans, but urge you to consider the extreme burden this change will impose on our campus and other institutions of higher education. Along with other filers in this docket we suggest that the Commission adopt a hybrid approach that determines an organization's contribution by examining the number of trunks it uses in providing services, rather than the number of telephone numbers assigned to those trunks.

As a community college which directly serves a district with a rural and underserved population, we support the Commission's important work to ensure access to telecommunications service for rural and other underserved groups. We urge you, however, to ensure that colleges and universities are not unfairly assessed with skyrocketing contribution requirements.

Respectfully submitted,
